SUBJECT: BUILDING DEMOLITION INSPECTIONS WITH SIGNS

We have been informed that when a building demolition permit is issued and inspected, the inspection does not include the demolition of any signage on the property; that, in fact, the signs or signage remain in place. Please inform your staff that for ANY demolition permit, the inspector must inspect the demolished building as well as make sure that any and all signs or signage must also be removed.

If you have any questions, please call me.
